The Mansfield High School yearbook has remained nameless since 1960. In a school where such avid support and involvement is evident, the 2003 Yearbook Staff decided that a title for this publication should no longer be overlooked. After reflecting upon what defines and influences the students of our school, one group of students continued to influence the staff in choosing a title. It isn't just named after a group of basketball fans wearing black shirts, but what these basketball fans represent in their corner of the gym. The name of their group and the title of this yearbook is a symbol of pride, which resides behind the closed green doors and freely wanders through the streets of Mansfield. "The Nest" will live on for years to come in whatever shape the students decide to take, as well as the memories found on the pages within.

Dedication

Ms. LeeAnne Wilhemson

The Class of 2003 proudly dedicates our yearbook to the late Mrs. LeeAnne Wilhelmson. A landslide vote by the senior class proved Ms. Wilhelmson an irreplaceable member of the Mansfield High School faculty, as well as a devoted friend and talented artist. She was an individual who possessed a drive for life like no other. This drive is what guided her in sharing her compassionate self with students, fellow faculty and staff, parents and anyone else she met along the way. Her generous nature earned her the respect and appreciation of everyone she touched.

The hallways leading up to the art room have seemed rather gloomy this year when compared to years of consistent and friendly greetings that were provided outside her room. Perhaps she was unaware of what a large impact this simple gesture had on so many people. With kind words and a smile, she brightened the days for many members of the MHS community. There was never a day you weren't able to witness her flare and love for teaching. Her classroom was filled with student art and was rarely empty. After school she would often oversee numerous students in her room working on projects while they discussed art topped off with a side dish of life advice.

Not limiting herself to students with artistic abilities, Mrs. Wilhelmson was resolute in being available and visible to all students. Her desire to befriend individuals of all walks of life and to share her spirit will never be forgotten. She attended most sporting events with a smile on her face and baked goods in hand for the players. She volunteered every year at the All-Night Party to do portraits and drawings and members of the senior class always left MHS with a reminder of how kind and altruistic she was. The constant support of not only her art students but all students within these walls exemplifies the remarkable person she was within.

In her spare time, Mrs. Wilhelmson created a community service program for her students and the people of The Village at Willow Crossing. This inspired her students to unite their love for art by sharing it with the elderly members of our community and was a success from the start. Her willingness to take education outside of the classroom is what set Mrs. Wilhelmson aside from other teachers. Her never-ending desire to accept diversity and make our lives better will never go unappreciated.

By paying tribute to her support and generosity in this yearbook we are merely touching upon her donations to this community. We cannot begin to count the lives she touched and it would be impossible to convey in words how much she is missed. Her spirit lives on and this thank-you card for a lifetime of good deeds will serve as a permanent reminder of the love and respect this Class of 2003 had for our friend and teacher, Mrs. LeeAnne Wilhemson.

She was a part of each and everyone's lives, whether you played a sport, took an art course, or you saw her smiling face outside her door greeting people who walked by or entered her room. Melissa O'Brien

Her kindness knew no bounds - students and teachers alike loved her! Her memory will live on. Mrs. Karen Anderson-MacDonald

She was a person that anyone could turn to and know that she would be there. Brett Barclift

LeeAnne Wilhelmson was dedicated to providing a good educational experience for all students. She was creative in her attempts to allow all students to participate regardless of challenges they may have! Mrs. Sue Shea

She was a great person with a big heart. She shared her love for the arts not only with the family of MHS, but with her other family at Willow Crossing. I never had her for a teacher, but we were good friends. Alex Panagopoulos

She smiled at me every time I passed her room. She was an uplifting, kind spirit and we all miss her. Ellen McSweeney

She was the nicest, kindest, most caring woman I have ever met. She always brought happiness wherever she went. Jill Constantino

Even though she had never had me in her class, I knew her as a kind, caring lady. She always gave snacks to my lacrosse team for the away games. Cory Cedrone

Mrs. Wilhemson was an artist, a teacher and a friend to so many at MHS. She spent countless hours supporting the students in all of her endeavors. Her dedication extended far beyond her classroom walls. In addition to her love for the Arts, she was often seen on the sidelines of most athletic contests. She was Mansfield's most devoted fan. Leanne enjoyed watching all of the sports but she had a special love for "her hockey boys". Her spirit will always be with the Hornets. Ms. Margaret Conaty

She was such a wonderful addition to the Guidance office! I know it sounds funny because she was an art teacher, but she was a teacher that connected so very well to those kids who were feeling somewhat lost. She was able to reach out to them and help them see how each one of them was special and important. She has left a void in our office and to those students who found self-worth through her guidance. Ms. Amanda McKenzie

She often supported athletic as well as academic activities. A positive role model for MHS. Kate Bryan

An incredible woman who deserves this dedication, which is not nearly enough to honor her. Scott Sneyd

She was an excellent mentor, an inspiring artist, and a wonderful person with a caring soul. Mrs. Wilhemson guided me and so many others while working at Mansfield High. Beth Mackie

We will never forget her sweet solo performance when she played her violin for us in the library one morning. She loved music and always had music playing in her room from classical to Weezer. I once caught her dancing during her free block one to a Beatles song! But most of all, LeeAnne Wilhemson loved her students at MHS...she laughed with them, encouraged them and cheered them on. Mrs. Debbie Jordan.

I had her as an art teacher for three years and she proved to be a friend instead of just a teacher. Jared Zankowski

I feel she contributed to our school greatly. She affected so many people's lives positively. We all miss her so much, I think this is a great tribute. Kelly McParland

It is because of Mrs. Wilhemson's endless efforts in caring, devotion and bettering artistic skill that have undoubtedly helped to mold me into the art teacher I am today. She is irreplacable and missed by many. Her spirit is in me and it feels right to be in her room, but now on the other side of her desk. Ms. Kerry Vallett

LeeAnne Wilhemson's works include a painting of Fulton's Pond, a gift to principal Brenda Hodges which she proudly keeps in her office, and a self-portrait, on temporary loan to MHS from the family's private collection.

Student Life

High school has been one of the greatest experiences in our lives, not to mention one of the shortest. In addition to classes involving hard work and long hours of studying, we are surrounded with opportunities to have fun, get dressed up, be creative and dance! As freshmen we didn't know what the next four years would hold. We listened to seniors talking about how quickly these four years would go by and promised ourselves that it wouldn't be the same for us. We said that we'd try to make the most of every day, night, and weekend; whether it was at a party with friends or just sitting around in the Wendy's parking lot. And true to form, each year went by quickly, just like they said, with rallies, dances, competitions, plays, parades, art shows, and powder puff football games to keep us entertained and busy. As seniors, some of us spent the time worrying about what would happen next instead of holding on to what was happening in the moment and some of us even said that we couldn't wait for high school to finally be over. But in the end, when the seniors don those green and white gowns, we can only hope that each one of us will walk away with at least a handful of a few wonderful memories. We are bound to remember events like the prom and four years worth of spirit weeks and homecoming weekends. But most of all we are destined to remember the friends we made and the friends we'll keep. The pages to follow represent the students' lives outside of the classroom, where some of the biggest life lessons were learned. We'll never forget these moments...we couldn't even if we tried. Once we remove our caps and gowns, life will be ready to bring about bigger and better things and no matter how we decide to look back at high school, it will always be something we will never be able to forget.

Prom 2002

Spring Serenade

Visions of balloons, bright flowers, and formal attire sprung to mind. On April 26, 2002, the Junior/Senior Prom was held at the Holiday Inn in Taunton. After arriving in limos and sports cars, a greeting by an entourage of parents and the flashing of cameras took place. The event took plenty of time to plan for. The numerous amounts of appointments and shopping trips made this an unforgettable night.

Dressed to kill, students were greeted by parents and members of the faculty as they entered. All attendees were treated to favors, dinner and plenty of dancing. As the evening passed, it was apparent that everyone was having a great time when the dance floor began to shake...literally! The dance party was put to a hault when the prom court was announced and recongized in a spotlight dance to the prom song "From this Moment." Everyone came together for the last dance to "Sex Bomb" before they went their separate ways to post-prom parties. Even though the night could not last forever, the abundance of pictures and memories will always be looked back upon.

Summer '02

"Those were the best days of our lives"

Bryan Adams

The summer of 2002 was clearly unforgettable. The lives of the students of MHS certainly didn't slow down. We spent our days working, regardless of the position and simply for the cash. The nights started and ended late, due to the twisted planning styles occurring in Wendy's parking lot. Three times a week, the majority of Mansfield High School students slaved over the dust pans and fast food stands of The Tweeter Center. On occasion, days off were accumulated where we'd meet at the MHS parking lot and start the fun-filled road trip to Old Silver, making sure to hit up Stop and Shop for gas and food on the way. We knew from the start that this would be one of the last summers we would all have together, and the feeling never subsided regardless of the activity.

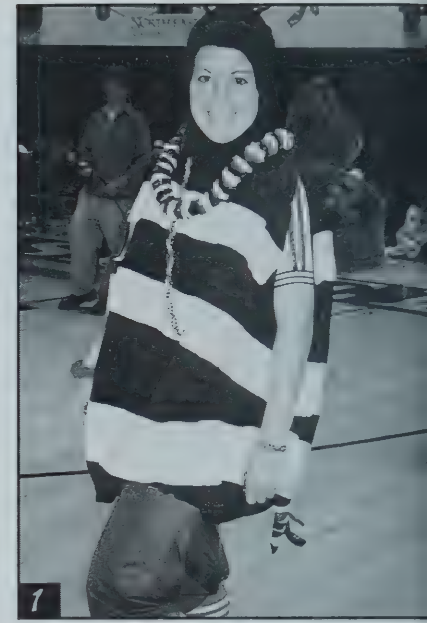
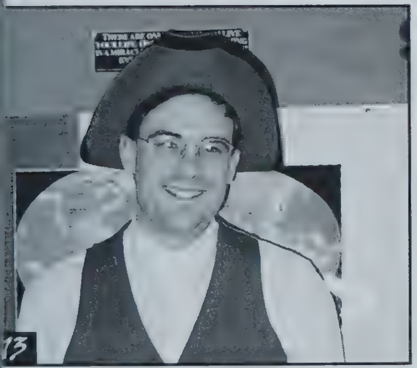
Spirit Week

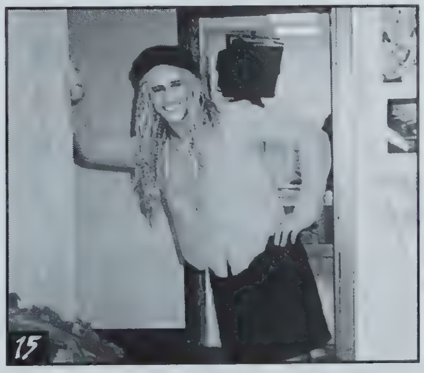
Let your true colors shine

Spirit itself is an understatement to the immeasureable amount of pizazz displayed by the students of Mansfield HIgh School. We started the weekly trends of colored wigs and two-toned tights on Monday, with twin day. Whether you were a "fat tourist" or a "big shoed witch with no teeth"; the outfits were guaranteed to get a smile. On Tuesday, we rallied through the decades with everything from togas and bats to spandex and blue makeup. On Wednesday we rolled out the red carpet to our Mansfield High School celebrites. Watch out Hollywood, we have guys being Brittney, Austin Powers and Leda Levine! Thursday welcomed Halloween a week early with animal day. The halls were treated like grazing fields for cows, penguins, and a variety of insects. Friday's rally exemplified the dancing talents of MHS, total green and white pride and a duo of gorrillas that went wild through the gym. Each year the amount of spirit showed by each class grows, creating a truely spirited school.



1: "Miss Spirit", Courtney O'Connor, is ready for the rally. 2: Look at all those animals at MHS today. 3: There is "No Doubt" that Lindsay O'Connell looks like Gwen Stefani. 4: The Hitman, the Boss and the Hulk take time out of their busy schedules for a picture. 5: We hate to tell you but, we're not in Hawaii.





: Jeane and Ashley are proudly dressed up as their favorite celebrities. 7: Katie Franklin is searching for her King Arthur to sweep her off er feet. 8: Kia and Tiffany are keeping the funk alive!. 9: My, how times have changed! 10: Let's travel back in time to the 80's. 11: he Tigger twins and Winnie the Pooh have lost their pal Piglet. 12: Are you seeing double? 13: In 1492, Mr. Hocking sailed the ocean lue. 14: Jared and Jeane are dressed in the best for the past times day. 15: That dude looks like a lady!

Homecoming

Hornet spirit and pride

Homecoming is a time to celebrate Mansfield spirit and pride. At the homecoming rally, the entire student body came together in the gym. Various groups, such as the field hockey and football teams and the step dancers, performed "end zone dances" providing laughs and entertainment. The homecoming court was announced and the newly appointed King Derek Franzen and Queen Ashley D'Ambra, proudly accepted the honor. For the first time in a long time, rain delayed the parade and football game until Sunday, but the dance still took place on Saturday night with everyone decked out for the night. All the hard work and long hours spent on building the floats finally paid off during the parade. The rain cleared and the senior class took first place in the float competition with their version of the OA Shovel Shack, defending the title for two years in a row. We paraded to Memorial Park where we came together to cheer on the football team to a big win over Oliver Ames.

Plays & Productions

Personalities come out on the stage

This year the MHS performing Arts displayed more talent than ever seen before!! The 2nd annual Madrigal Dinner kicked off the year with a sold out crowd. This year's production was bigger and better than last years, and even Mr. Moretti and Mr. Boyden got into it!! The show featured dancers, singers, actors and a three course meal. Seniors Alex Panagoupolos and Sara Demunbrun were the king and queen of the MHS Royal Court. But a disgruntled ex-employee kidnapped the king and turned him into a chicken. All was saved by the humorous Jester, played by senior Katie Franklin. The Madrigal Dinner was the first production this year to be directed by Ms. Monroe and Ms. Payeur. The second was the comedy "Undercover Romance". This hilarious play was about a romance writer looking for love in all the wrong places...and in the wrong clothes. Alex Panagopolos was Ed Bartlett and later on Blanche Dunwitty. Alice O'Connell portrayed Elaine Hall, Ed's love interest, and Katie Franklin, Leona Washbutton, Ed's editor. This comedy received high accolades and has started the tradition of performing a non-musical production every year along with the Madrigal Dinner and the spring musical.

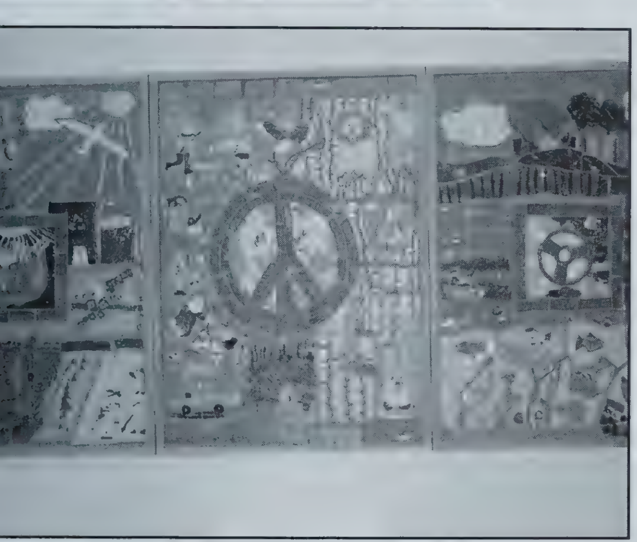
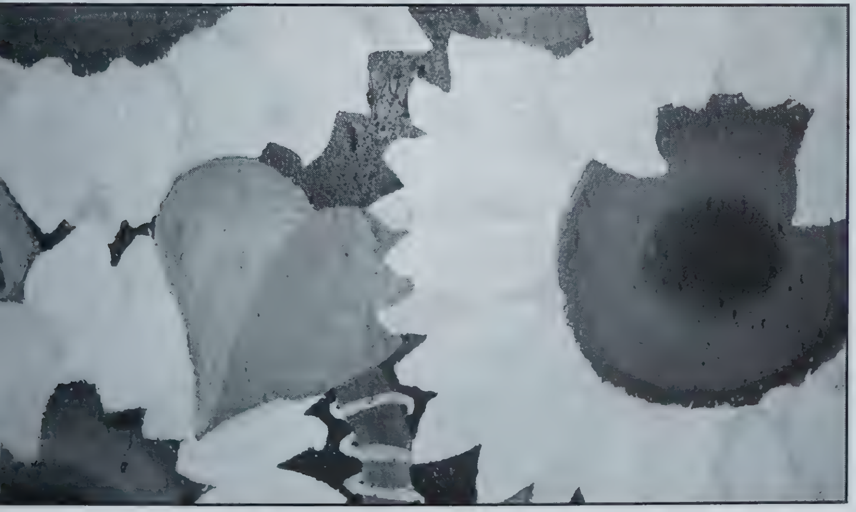
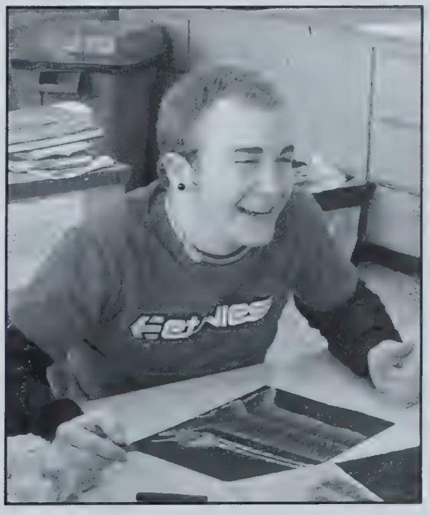
Brings color and character to Mansfield High

Here at Mansfield High School, you can always find talented pieces of artwork around the school. As students walk to lunch, they stop to admire their peer's artwork. Throughout the year, ceramic scenes are on display at the entrance of the school. Upstairs colorful display cases are always being made. From remembering September 11th to celebrating the holidays, display cases always add to the atmosphere of MHS. If you enter into the art rooms, students can always be found creating their masterpieces and having fun while doing it. The ceilings are traditionally decorated—every senior art student leaves their mark by designing their own ceiling tile. Students are known to love art classes. They provide a relaxing, expressive atmosphere where students can comfortably be themselves. At Mansfield High School the student produced art enhances the entire school. Mansfield contains a plethora of talented artists that brighten everyday.







Quebec City

No one even knew how cold it really was During February vacaction, 80 students along with Mr. Kelly, Mr. Morales and Mr. Perry spent several days in beautiful and historic Quebec City. For four days we toured the city seeing everything from the Parliament Building, La Citadel to the Village des Sports in Valcartier, where students spent many hours snow tubing. While in Quebec we ate at several French restuarants including Thomas Tan, an Oriental/French Canandian resturant we were able to prepare our own meals with choices ranging from pizza to frog legs. We enjoyed a delicious meal at L'Astral, a revolving returant found at the top of the Hilton. We had complete access to our own dance club, Le Bistro, where we met fellow students and Americans from Aubuorn High School. No one will soon forget Les Galeries de la Capitale, the gigantic mall with the indoor theme park and ice skating rink. The temperature was contantly below freezing, but no one really minded since it was a winter vacation in a foreign land, where we could experience another culture and were surrounded by friends! Au Revoir Quebec, La Belle Province!

Window Painting

Everyone is an artist in this town

The Citizen Scholarship Foundation sponsored their annual holiday window painting efforts to jump start the holiday spirit around town. Each year, local businesses pay the Citizen Scholarship Foundation to have their windows painted and decorated for the season. Students from all grades volunteered to design and paint a window. The student group draws an outline of their design and then transforms that design onto the windows. The amount of student participation in this project increases each year as the fun starts with the design and continues as the paint begins to fly. It turns out being a dirty job as most students leave with more paint on themselves than the windows, but everyone who participates understands the importance of caring for the community and is proud to be a part of this project. The following weekend a group of judges travels around town to vote on the best windows for various categories. All of the money raised is used by the CSF for senior scholarships at the end of the year.

Project Teammate

A new approach on team work

Project Teammate is a program and class like no other where students are given the opportunity to learn hands on without books or homework. The program is unique because it unites both special needs and regular education students for one block each day. This block is where students work in partners on various tasks ranging from pillow polo in the gym to the grueling dish room in the cafeteria. The students who take Project Teammate as a class spend the semester learning what a life with special needs is like, as well as being a friend and teacher to their partners. Under the superior guidance of Mrs. Shea and Ms. Levine and all others involved, the program promotes acceptance and tolerance of all walks of life. Evidence of this is visible when students see their partners in the hallways or within the community and immediately greet their new friends with a hello and a smile. The fun is guaranteed unlimited, since new hands-on learning experiences seem to present themselves daily. Upon signing up for Project Teammate as a class, one never knows what they are going to gain as the lessons are lifelong and the willingness to give is contagious.

Powder Puff Football Seniors 27 Juniors 7

On Wednesday, November 20, 2002, the Powder Puff football game took place on the new turf field under the lights. It was, as expected, a football game of serious rivalry between the junior girls and the senior girls. You don't need to be on the football team to play in this game and these girls showcased their athletic abilities on the field while making their coaches proud. The teams were coached by junior and senior male football players, who brought Powder Puff to new levels this year by issuing practice times! Over the years, the Powder Puff football game has become more and more competitive and this year's group of girls spent the days leading up to the game enticing their opposing team and predicting victory. The seniors ended up with a landslide victory over the juniors with a score of 27-7. As you can tell from the photos on this page, these girls, adorned with ribbons, eye black and jerseys, were in it for more than just first downs and points on the scoreboard. It was tradition and MHS pride that brought this group of students to the turf.

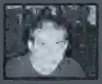
SENIORS

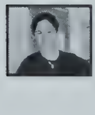
We are 210 individuals each with unique pasions, experiences, flaws, talents and needs. Each action we take, each decision we make, each path we persue, each opportunity we pass up effects our lives and permanantly alters our destiny. What we are is a composite of all past decisions and knowledge. Even minor events can change our present and future. These past four years of high school have passed by quickly. But when we look back on the last twelve years, these are the ones that have flown by. Do you remember when...

1st grade:	You got on the bus and made your first friend.
2nd grade:	You shared crayons with the boy next to you in alphabetical order.
3rd grade:	You took your first of many trips to the Museum of Science.
4th grade:	You got the "Talk"
5th grade:	You gave and recieved your first real valentine to your #1 crush.
6th grade:	Fishnets and Jincos were popular.
7th grade:	You went on the ropes course...don't you hate heights?
8th grade:	You got dressed up for the banquet and started preparing for the best for years of your life...High School!
Fr. Year:	You saw what the inside of a locker looked like for the first time.
So. Year:	You finally realized that grades count, and wondered whether or not you could make the team.
Jr. Year:	The "Nest" was born, you had so much to do to get ready for your first prom and how excited you were to finally become a Senior.
Senior Year:	You visited your first college, voted on class superlatives and realized that graduation for the Class of 2003 was no longer in the distant future...it was closer than you ever thought it would be!

As you look back on the memories, you'll never be able to forget and you prepare to let go of it all, the one thing that this senior class has in common is that we knew exactly what to do to...

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL





Senior Superlatives

Take a minute to reflect...can you remember what it was like in the sixth grade? Imagine sitting at lunch with a group of FRIENDS finishing off your typical Friday calzone. You begin to look around and the thought of the kid sitting next to you that day becoming the high school all-star or the most likely to be famous probably never crossed your mind. Now you're in your SENIOR YEAR and your dreams are suddenly becoming a reality. The senior superlatives sheet is placed in front of you, with the expectation that in one week you have to choose the best this and the best that from the many quirks and accomplishments of your CLASSMATES. Who has the prettiest smile and the best clothes? Who is the person who was always the first to greet you and the one you can depend on the most? You're now forced to take a round-trip excursion down memory lane, and you begin to realize that the list is endless. But when it comes down to it, the person that represents each of the following categories will hold a permanent place in this book of MEMORIES.

Yearbook Editor-in-Chief Jeane Gasson and Senior Editors Lindsay McLacklan, Caitlin Jackson and Lindsay Wallace begin the five hour long process of counting the superlative votes

Real friends hold your hair back and get you a blanket (Mark's Hide…; The Wednesday) Learn from your mistakes-then, when you make them again, you'll know ('Mom? Am I home?'; fun in the TTTT; 50 TIMES?!) Wherever you are, be with friends (the playground!; Friendly's; basement cartoon watching) Make your own memories ("crying" to Greg; Pats games; Bandmasters; Latin class) Live with no regrets (CS #s 1&2!; ALL the straws; Sebago '02) Find the humor in life "If you're ever robbing a bank and your pants fall down, it's okay to laugh and let the hostages laugh too, because, come on, life is funny" "So feed us all another lie … so we wont have to change the way we see, we live, we love, we die" – Thrice Activities: Colorguard 1234

Coming into a new school for my last year in high school was not the best idea. Especially coming in as a minority. Starting off was the most difficult part because I guess I was trying too hard to get people to notice me. I wasn't being myself. Soon, I started feeling like I was being left out of everything. I just needed to be myself and let people know who KIA really is. I let the important things I lived up to slip away. I think sometimes we forget the important things to us by trying to fit in the crowd. “Sometimes enemies stick closer than friends. SPORTS

Being an athlete at Mansfield High School is more than just putting on a uniform and playing games, but rather a tradition that dates back generations. Sports in Mansfield bring together not only the school but also the entire community. As 3,000 fans packed into Memorial Park on Thanksgiving morning, a feeling of comradery filled the town. As the Nest chanted "AIRBALL," in unison, opposing towns recognized the outstanding spirit of this school. No matter what sport it happens to be, the town is behind it.

Sports in Mansfield also gave us memories that we will never forget. Entering the school as a freshman we would do anything possible to impress the upperclassmen and always push ourselves to the limits to earn our respect. As senior athletes, we strove to provide our underclassmen with leadership and direction. Everyone will grow older, get jobs, get married and start a family, but all of us will carry at least one memory of high school athletics with us for the rest of our lives. Whether or not it is a play you made to propel your team to victory or an unlikely friendship that was formed during the season, these memories will never leave you.

When all is said and done, sports at Mansfield helped form us into better people. Despite drawing up perfect plays and spending countless hours preparing for our next opponent, coaches also taught us life long lessons about leadership and never giving up on your dreams. The competition that we faced in sports will also better prepare us for the competition we will face further down the road of life. Years from now when we are faced with adversity or an impossible obstacle, the lessons we learned as athletes will put us at an advantage, and we will know no matter what the obstacle may be, we can overcome it.

SAY GOODBYE TO THE CURSE OF THE HORNET

Baseball

For the past 38 years Mansfield Baseball was never synonomous with the phrase "Hockomock Champs." That is until the Hornets of 2002 stepped up to the plate. Led by a strong senior class and many supporting underclassmen. The Hornets shocked everyone with a 15-7 record. Scott Kessler was the ace on the mound for the Hornets while the bat of Hock All-Star Brett Barclift sparked the offense. The all-around presence of junior Jim Abreau had a huge impact on the teams success. Although the Hornets did not fair well in the post season, their sole possesion of the Hockomock crown made it a memorable season. Look for the Hornets to be back in the mix next in 2003 with returning pitchers Scott Kessler and John Sperazza as well as power hitter Matt Quinn, Mr. Clutch Joe Poirier, and sideline Coach Tony Boldrghini leading the way.

Down and Hard

Softball

The girls softball team barely missed a playoff bid, but this was not due to lack of effort. The Hornets gave it their best every game, and played with heart and Mansfield Pride. Pitcher Carolyn Egan was the ace on the mound for Mansfield and Ashley Baker was a force at the plate. The most exciting game of the year came at the end of the season against Ursaline. The game went back and forth for 13 innings. Despite the fact that the final result was not favorable for the Hornets, they still played tough. Ms. D's team will bring back a young squad in 2003, who are looking to fight their way back to the State Tournament.

KEEP ON CRADLIN'

Boys Lacrosse

Going into the season the boys lacrosse team had lofty expectations and the guys did not disappoint. Sporting a 14-4 record, the team proved to be a powerhouse in the state. Captain Pat Hill and junior Derek Franzen led the attack while James McCarthy and Kyle Cedrone controlled the midfield. On the defensive side of the field, the Kiley brothers Chris and Brian kept the ball out of the net. The highlight of the season was a brave comeback against a highly favored Medfield team. Trailing 8-0 at halftime, Mansfield battled back to win 9-8 in overtime. Even though the season ended with a disappointing exit from the State Tournament in the second round, a great time was had by all. The outlook is great for the Hornets and they are aiming to go one step further during the 2003 season.

IT'S MORE THAN JUST A GAME

Girls Lacrosse

The 2002 Girls Lacrosse season was full of heart, laughs and a little bit of sadness. The heart was displayed through every game and practice, which lead to an undefeated record in the Hock. Countless laughs were shared and good times were had after victories and at team gatherings. The sadness came at the end of the '02 season when the lacrosse team graduated those seniors who had been present for the start of the program at MHS. There is no doubt that the pride and tradition left by those seniors will be carried on. The 2003 captains, Lindsey O'Connell and Nikki Flynn, strive to achieve even more success under the guidance of Coach Payeur. The defending Hock Champs have set their goal to be the first Mansfield team ever to be back-to-back champs.

HUNTERS AND RUNNERS

Boys Spring Track

Hard work was the name of the game for the Boys Spring Track Team. They finished the season with a dual meet record of 6-2 in the Hockomock league. With the steady distance running of Ryan Collins and the emergence of sophmore phenom Terry Young, the Hornets were almost unbeatable. Derek Mcune and Gerry Willette were dominant in the shot-put and discus events, while the javelin team led by Bi Antonucci, Tom Farrell and Chris Josep emerged as the most dangerous grou in the league. The work ethic displaye by the team was superb, as the Hornet practiced rain or shine to get themselve better. Girls Spring Track

"Nice job" and "push it" were familiar phrases heard among members of the girls track team. No matter if it was the Hockomock Championship Meet or a rainy, windy practice in May, the Hornets were always rooting each other on. The team finished with a commendable 4-4 record and many girls qualified for the sectional meet. Ashley D'ambra and Nikki Boldrghini could always be found at the front of the pack while Kailin Collins and Tricia Harrison were known for dominating every event they took part in. With many point scorers returning for the Hornets season in '03, the girls spring track team looks to continue to wreak havoc in the Hockomock League .

Boys Tennis

The boy's tennis team had a successful season qualifying for the state tournament for the 6th consecutive season. Sophomore MVP Giovanni Cuscina led the Mansfield attack at 2nd singles and contributed many victories for the Hornets. Craig Desmond anchored the first doubles team all season playing with tenacity and passion. The team had key victories over King Philip and North Attleboro, which propelled the team into tournament. Climbing the ladder as a freshman, Anuj Agrawal earned his way onto first and second doubles, which gave him the title of Most Improved Player. Another promising underclassmen was Denis Condon who came on strong at the second half of the season and played well on second doubles. The tennis team contained six sophomores and nine freshmen. The success of this year's team will depend on how much those players improve during the off-season.

The girls tennis team kept their reputation as one of the strongest programs in the Hockomock league with a tremendous 14-6 overall record, gaining ten of those wins in league play. Seniors Tory Hackett, Tina Spagnoli and junior Erin Cavanaugh led the team at the singles spots while juniors Holly Condon and Danielle Hamm anchored the doubles squads. Despite an abrupt exit from the state tournament, there is no doubt that this year's tennis season was one to remember. With a lot of experience returning for the Hornets it will be no surprise to see Mrs. Jackson and her girls on top of the Hockomock league again in the spring of 2003.

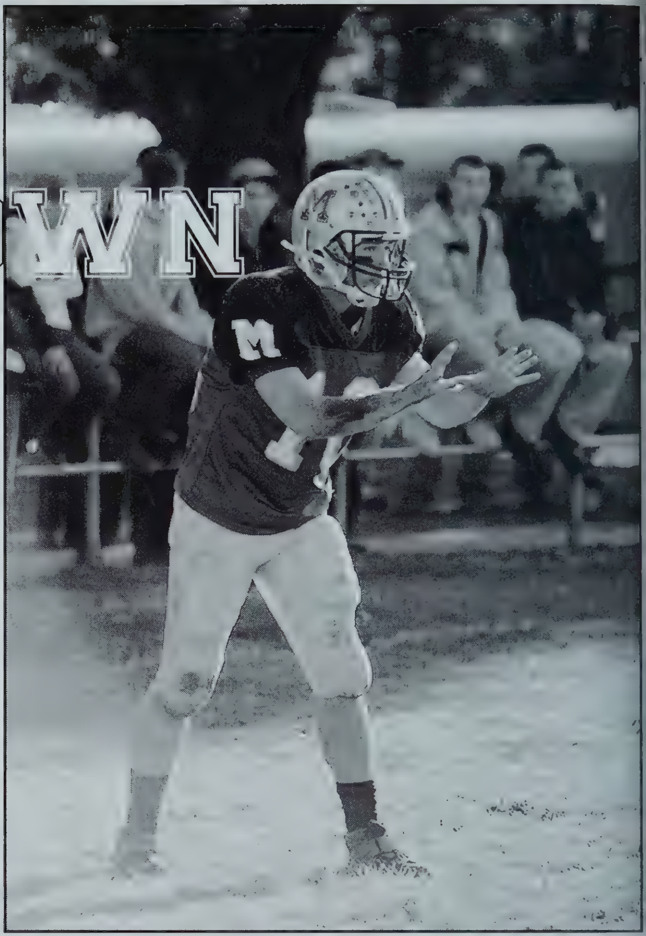
Football



After losing 15 starters to graduation last year, many people around the league felt that the 2002 season would be a year for the Hornets to rebuild and reload for the following season. However, the Hornets had other plans. Led by captains Bill Antonucci, Adam Young, Tom Davis and Dave Felton, the Mansfield Hornets took the league by storm. Division I powerhouse BC High also felt the wrath of the Hornets as they were dismantled 35-14 on a cold windy night in Boston. The league leading offense picked up where it left off last year as Hockomock League MVP Bill Antonucci finished his career with over 2,500 yards passing and 27 touchdowns. All-star's Tom Davis and Brian Kiley emerged as the most dangerous weapons in the Hornets arsenal. Tom Davis had 1,000 all-purpose yards and 18 touchdowns while Brian Kiley added 800 yards rushing and 6 touchdowns. Offensive lineman Dave Felton, Matt Quinn and Matt Harrison paved the way for the Hornets running back on a consistent basis. The defense was anchored by linebacker Adam Young who finished his career as the leading tackler in Mansfield history with 186. Seniors Joe Poirier, Andy Crook and junior Derek McCune also played pivotal roles in the Hornets defensive unit. The Hornets finished the season second place in the Hockomock league with an 8-1-1 record.

SIMPLY THE BEST

Field Hockey

The 2002 season proved to be another succesful season for the Mansfield field hockey team despite some preseason skeptcism. After losing a senior class who made up the majority of the starting lineup, the Hornets were forced to put together a team with little varsity experience. Unlike most teams who need a year to rebuild, the Hornets picked up just where they left off last season and notched an impressive 11-6-2 record. Senior leadership by captains Lauren Liddick, Melissa O'Brien and Hockomock All-Star Courtney O'Connor kept the team at their best all season. Jill Blacker emerged to be the teams top scorer and finished 3rd in the league with 14 goals. Halfback Amanda Arnold was awarded the teams unsung hero award while Ashley D'Ambra was the teams MVP. The most memorable game of the season for the Hornets was when they avenged an early season loss to Foxboro to earn the number 9 seed in the state tournament game. By overcoming adversity and never backing down, the field hockey team proved to everyone what it means to be a Hornet.

Boys Soccer

The 2002 Boys Varsity Soccer Team built upon the tradition of success that has emerged in the soccer program in recent years. The team was led by tri-captains Derek Franzen, Dave Micheli, and Mike Gleason, as well as seniors Josh Lamborghini and Brian Leary. While the squad did not reach its ultimate goal of a Hockomock League Championship, it did finish with a record of 11-7-2, good for 2nd place in the league. The team also made its 4th consecutive appearance in the State Tournament. The season ended with a disappointing overtime loss to Sandwich in the postseason; however, a strong base of underclassmen will be returning next year to make another run at the league title and the state title. Thanks to Coach Giannouloudis, Coach Smith, and Coach Perry for all of their hard work, help, and patience. Good luck to co-captains Ryan Gordy and Adam Tedeschi, as well as the rest of the team, for the 2003 season.

KICKING FOR GOALS

Girls Soccer

The girls soccer team had a terrific season this year. Despite fielding a young squad of girls, the Hornets played hard and had no excuses. The defense was anchored by Senior captain's Nicole Boldrghini and Ashley Baker. Nicole would rarely let opposing players take a shot on the net, and when they did Ashley Baker was their to stop it. The offense had its share of success while captain Allie Genoa along with senior Nicole Flynn were always attacking the net. Many underclassmen such as Brianne Bowes, Kailin Collins and freshman Kelly Regan made strong contributions to the team as well. The most memorable win for the Hornets was Senior Night with their 1-0 victory over the heavily favored King Philip Warriors who went on to the state final game. This victory showed that the Hornets could not only compete with anyone, but also beat anyone.

GOT KICK?

Boys Cross Country

The Mansfield Boys Cross-Country team worked hard conditioning themselves all summer for the fall 2002 season. After losing many valuable team members of the 2001 Hockomock Championship team, the 2002 Boys Cross Country team made a strong showing. The team finished their dual meet season with a solid 5-3 record. Captains Ryan Collins and Nick Wirth led the team to strong finishes. The Most Valuable Runner of the team Ryan Collins consistently was the team's top finisher followed by Nick Wirth and Tom Perry. Mike Cocca turned his sprinting abilities to distance running and helped push the team. Mike Lawlor stepped up from last year to be in the top seven along with Joe Regan and Josh Kenney. Freshmen Mike Caeron put in great efforts while Dan Cerqueira was named Most Improved. Freshmen and Sophomores ran well and will be in a good position to step it up in 2003 and assume leadership roles on the team. Co-captain elects for the 2003 squad are Tom Perry and Joe Regan.

Senior Matt Stearns has his opponent right where he wants him.

RUN WITH IT

Girls Cross Country

This year the Girls' Cross Country team made strides in the Hockomock league and became established as a strong, dedicated, tough to beat team. Always being positive and a strong leader, captain Pamela David was a great influence on the entire team. Coach DiBiase gave her girls a hard, tough, successful and yet fun season finishing 4th overall in the league—the best girls cross country season Mansfield High school has seen! The team's best meet was against North and Sharon. It was the girls' only home meet of the year and gave the home crowd a great showing. Many of the team members ran their personal best times and was considered their best meet of the season. At the Class C Meet, the girls placed 9th overall. Freshman Lauren Brown placed at the State Meet and earned herself a place at the All-State meet. Lauren Brown was the team's Hockomock League all-star and voted the teams MVP. Sophomore Katie Brague earned the honors of Most Improved on the team. The Girls' Cross Country team has grown in leaps in bounds and is looking even stronger for next year.

Men's Golf

The 2002 Mansfield High School Golf team had one of its most successful seasons in recent years. The team ended the fall season with a record of 7-9 on the year, coming close to securing a spot at the state tournament within only one win. The successful season can be contributed to the play of Hockomock All-Star Andy Keenan, senior captains Kyle and Cory Cedrone, senior Brett Barclift, and the rise of underclassmen such as Tim Johnson and Matt Szecuil throughout the course of the season. The golf team hopes to continue its success in the future under the new leadership of Coach Sean Kelly and juniors Andy Keenan and Tim Johnson, who were elected team captains for the 2003 season.

QUEENS OF THE COURT

Volleyball

The Mansfield volleyball team was made up of aggressive, hard-working girls who made their mark in the Hockomock league. Playing against much more experienced teams, they earned respect from their opponents because of their effort and positive attitude. The girls worked as a team and were always there for each other, on and off the court. Senior captain Melissa Avery was the MVP of the squad and was a leader in blocking and hitting. Katie Lambalot was the other captain who led by example and played just about every position on the court. Several underclassmen such as Leanne Bertrand, Desiree Petty and Joelle Skaff also were main contributors to the team. Leanne and Joelle both had kill percentages greater than 30% while Desiree provided the emotional lift for the team when they needed it the most with her aggressive hits and team spirit. With an abundance of talent returning combined with the strong senior leadership of this years captains, the Hornets should be on their way to Hockomock supremacy.

With a combination of talent and work ethic, the team continuously stunned the crowd with incredible leaps and bounds. Many cheerleaders fought through injuries and overcame adversities. The cheerleaders had an awesome season, finishing strong in all competitions they took part in. ON THE REBOUND

Boys Basketball

The Mansfield Boys basketball team showed heart and pride throughout the entire season, despite their wins or losses. Although the Hornets did not always get the breaks they wanted, losing several tight games, they never were out hustled or out worked. Senior Ryan Guthrie and Junior Matt Holt led the offensive attack for the Hornets as they combined to score over 25 points a game. Matt was selected to the Hockomock All-Star team as well. Senior Paul Nestor and Junior Jared Giblin provided the defense for the Hornets while Senior Andy Crook was always the toughest kid on the court. Seniors Dave Flint, Greg Shiffer, Adam Mcugh, Pete Flaherty and Bill Antonucci also played prominent roles on the team. The most memorable game of the season was a come from behind victory on the road against the number two team in the league, Stoughton. The Hornets also knocked off Dighton-Rehoboth, the number two ranked team in their league as well. Although the team did not reach their goal of tournament, it was never due to lack of effort.

Girls Basketball

The Girls Varsity Basketball team was unsure of where the season was going to bring them when it started. Led by captains Ashley Baker and Nicole Boldrighini, as well as seniors Allie Genoa, Jillian Jewett and Nicole Flynn, several underclassmen proved to be integral to the team. Junior Brianne Bowes brought many points to the scoreboard as the team's best three-point shooter, as being elected the Hockomock All Star. The inexperience of the team was shown early in the season and gave the girls a rough start. They had their ups and downs with exciting games to Stoughton, North Attleboro, Notre Dame Academy and OA. Coaches Mike Redding, BJ Sparrow, Heather Hover and Theresa DeGirolamo kept the girls motivated throughout daily practices and endless spaghetti dinners. The determination of the girls brought good luck in February especially in the Mansfield Roundball Classic. Winning the first round over Middleboro guaranteed them a game in the championship game against Canton. Losing two very close games to Canton during regular season gave the girls incentive and determination, allowing them to come out on top with the win and the first place trophy for the third year in a row.

Rob Fernandez gains the lead during the 400M race.

The boys finished 7-1 in the Hockomock League meet competition and won the Hockomock League Championship Meet with 64 points, a total team effort! They also finished fourth in the Class C Meet against more than thirty teams. Juniors Mike Lawlor and Derek McCune earned individual League Meet Champions in the 600 and the shot put. Jeremy Langton, Jerry Willette, Chris Kiley, Terry Young earned runner-up honors for their 2nd place finishes. Other top placements in the League Meet included Chris Kiley who placed sixth in the high jump, Jeremy Langton who placed 5th in the 600, Mike Cocca who placed fifth in the 55 meter dash and Mike Caeran who placed sixth in the two mile. The Mile Relay team of Terry Young, Jeremy Langton, Mike Lawlor, Steve Stanley finished 5th and the following week at the State Meet the team of Chris Kiley, Steve Stanley, Mike Lawlor, Terry Young ran a season's best of 3:35.92. Other top performers for the team during the season included Josh Kenney, senior captain Nick Wirth, Tom Perry, Rob Fernandez, Mike Watson, Mike Gleason, Matt Meagher, Jon Antonucci and Joe Regan.

GONE WITH THE WIND

Girls Winter Track

The Girls' 2002-03 Winter Track had a strong season finishing with the record of 5-3 and third overall in the Hockomock League. Senior Captains Ashley D'Ambra, Carolyn Egan and Jeane Gasson provided strong leadership, motivation and fun for the girls' team. Ashley D'Ambra proved to be one of the top hurdlers in the league and placed eight at the Class C meet. Junior Tricia Harrison broke the school record throwing 37ft 2 inches and also earned herself first place at the Class C meet. In the high jump, Kristin Oberlander dominated in the league and finished fourth overall at Class C meet. Katie Brague broke the school record in the mile, running 5:40 and earning sixth place at the Class C meet. In addition, at the Class C meet, Christine Miller placed sixth in the 1000-meter race. Other strong performances were given throughout the season by Kailin Collins and Lauren Brown in the mile and two mile races, Corey DiFlamines in the dash and the 300 meters, Kara Chionere in the hurdles and Alicia Zonenshine in the hurdles and 400 meter relay.

HOT ON THE ICE

Hockey

The air is a chilly 65 degrees and rickety heaters hangover a portion of a rambunctious crowd while the rest come prepared for the cold. Without a doubt there is more to hockey than the Zamboni that glides across the ice before the third period. To be a hockey team you have to have heart and a lot of courage, things our nine seniors have in spades. Captained by Matthew Quinn, Thomas Kinahan, Andrew Webber, and Matthew Kershaw, this year's varsity team skated to an 8-11-1 record. It was an overall successful season with victories over rivals like Oliver Ames and Foxboro and the trip over to Martha's Vineyard on the ferry were some of the sweetest memories of the season. Yet the boys weren't immune to the wrenching feeling from defeats they encountered. The bittersweet memories crystallized in blood sweat, tears, and ice were enough to last the boys a lifetime…or at least they'll do till next season.

LAST MAN STANDING

Wrestling

Wrestlers were back and hitting the mats as they geared up for another great season. The hours are long and hard but they are worth it in the end. As was seen in the great season the team had this year. Wrestlers are a special breed of people nothing is given to them they work for it.

Wrestling can be considered an individual sport, but the wrestlers are also a team. They work together as a team if one person fails at their duties they all pay the consequences and if someone excels they all share in the celebration. Being a champion takes a lot of heart, sweat, and tears just ask senior captains James McCarthy and Stephen Corcoran who each had great seasons.

PUMP IT UP

Winter Cheerleading

When students attend an MHS sporting event, they are usually impressed with the performance of the athletes' grueling practices. However the scoreboard doesn't account for all the athletes on the court. The Cheerleaders are often over looked for all the hard work they put in. As the sole senior on the squad Sarah Hannon has shown exemplary spirit and has kept the team cheering on.

The entire team has helped many Mansfield Teams rise to victory and the players on the court would agree that they couldn't have done it without these spirited student-athletes. Sarah has done a wonderful job but she didn't go it alone. Co-captain Courtney Donahue along with coach Ms. Guthrie lead the the girls to a successful first place finish at the Universal Cheerleading Association camp. The squad helped many opther Mansfield Teams to victories throughout the season. Though the team will lose their biggest leader next year, they are sure to be a driving force, cheering our boys to victory, and getting the fans directly involved in the action on the court.

HIGHER HARDER FASTER

Gymnastics

No one expected it - not even the team. In its third year existing as a sport at MHS, the gymnastics team overcame everyone's expectations and captured the Hockomock League title with a 7-1 record. The team held the league record for most points in a meet this year with an unbelievable 136.1. The team also qualified for the first time ever to the MIAA Sectional Championship finishing eighth in the state. Captains Courtney O'Connor and Casey Bowdish delivered clutch performances on vault and bars. Senior Jillian Constantino placed 5th in the Hockomock League on Balance Beam, on which she was a solid performer all season. Senior Andrew Colleran undoubtedly deserving of his title as MVP, achieved many new records on all three of his events. Freshman Maddie Gambale and Sophomore Shelby Greenfield both performed in the all-around throughout the season, boosting the team to its many victories. Each member of the team performed outstandingly together to capture the first ever Hockomock Gymnastics Title from Mansfield.

THE CUTTING EDGE

The dream of every figure skater is to give a truly great performance. One that she knows, and the judges and audience know, has been a perfect combination of strength, technique, and artistry. Such performances may seem effortless and inspired, but this is far from the case. To perfect a performance a skater must practice endless hours on such things as timing, positioning, facial expressions, gesture and foot work.

Despite the rewards that come with the hard work a skater puts into their skating career, the result often seems lackluster or even limited because the sport is a solo effort. The joy of victory often seems cut short when you do not have a team to celebrate success with. However, figure skaters at Mansfield High School have been fortunate enough to skate as a team team and experience that sense of pride over the last few years and achieve further successes as a team in the action, which is rare in the sport of figure skating. Together the 2003 MHS Figure Skating team has shown that figure skating can be a team effort full of respect, hard work and most importantly teamwork.

CLUBS

Secretly residing within the walls of Mansfield High School are numerous clubs and organizations that run in collaboration by both students and faculty. The limits for becoming involved are seemingly endless and the goals achieved help develop the whole student. MHS offers a broad variety of activities from the study of Japanese anime to assisting the local animal shelter. For those students that posses interest in a world language, there are the French and Spanish clubs suitable to provide hands on experience of the culture. The Spanish club experiments with the many holidays and exquisite foods while the French club travels to Quebec to truly experience French culture. Student Action for Animals is another beneficial group that puts forth tremendous effort in collecting supplies and money for the shelter. There's Newspaper where students publish the ins-and-outs at MHS and learn the skills required to produce a publication. Organizations like Peer Leadership, Mediation and SADD strive to keep the student body safe, both emotionally and physically while Band, Chorus and Concert Choir allow students outlets of expression. The many organizations offered at MHS help support the school's mission of becoming a life long learner, and quite simply, are fun!

PEOPLE

Within the next pages you will find the faces of those who walk the hallways along with this senior class. For freshmen, the first year of high school is a huge step and they are now at the bottom of the high school food chain and have no clue what to expect. As the days go on, you become accustomed to eighty-five minute classes and the new freedoms you now possess as a high schooler. Before you know it, that first year is over and sophomore year is upon you. Stakes get a little higher as you prepare for the MCAS test and the PSATS. No longer is a school day just like any other day; it takes on new meaning as you start to think about the future. You realize that your performance now will set the tone for the rest of your high school career and beyond. Junior year is your chance to compete at the varsity level and make your final mark in academics, because this is the year that really counts. College is only a short distance down the road and no longer does life after high school seem like an eternity away. As seniors can tell you, being an underclassmen is the most carefree time of high school because before you realized how it happened, life will be upon you with decisions that will effect your future.

The foundation of MHS is its administration, faculty and staff. As students, we are extremely lucky to have such a great staff behind our education. From the principals and teachers to the janitors and lunch staff, a smiling and friendly face can always be found within these walls. Serving as coaches, advisors, role models, disciplinarians, or hall monitors, the role of an educator is endless. With this kind of support along this journey through high school, it's hard to graduate from Mansfield and not be a changed person.

ADS

The Ad section sometimes lacks the sentimental value that other portions of this yearbook might have. Advertisements in the yearbook are essential. Without them, the yearbook would definitely exceed a typical student's price range. It is a section full of advertisements by local businesses in the community and parents. It is a chance for these groups to support the yearbook financially and have a spot to express how they feel about certain graduating seniors. Not being sentimental couldn't be farther from the truth. Start looking at the pages and you will see memories and reminders of the past, innocent children and dreams for the future. You can observe parents who decided to express their pride by reserving a spot in this book of memories. You will also see which places you probably eat in or get movies from who were kind enough to donate money to this Senior class. We hope you appreciate the contribution they made toward this yearbook

For everyone, no matter what their age, a high school yearbook represents four years of unforgettable memories, both good and bad. We hope that each student will look through this ad section and remember those who made this timeless treasure possible and a touch more affordable. The yearbook staff would like to express enormous amounts of gratitude to those who contributed to the 2003 yearbook, "The Nest". Thank you!

"Child of mine, child of mine. Oh yes, sweet darlin', so glad you are a child of mine." - Carole King

Dear Sarah,
Oh how the years go by... one moment we are walking slowly hand-in-hand down Lewelyn Road to your first day of kindergarten and the next morning you are dashing out our front door on Fredric Lane to catch a ride to your first day of high school.

What a bittersweet time this is. Not only is parenting a child the hardest job in the world- it is the hardest job in the world to give up. We are saddened by the loss of the little girl you once were, but we have enjoyed getting to know the mature young woman you have become. You have brought us such joy to our lives and have given us so many memories that we will cherish and keep tucked away in the scrapbook of our minds.

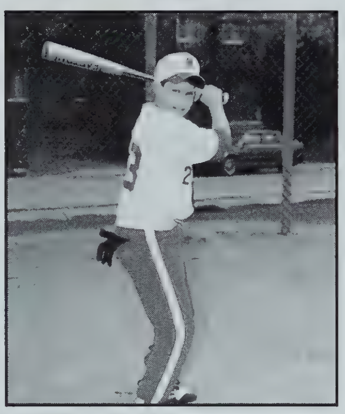
You are so special to us. While we are proud of your academic success, we are even more proud of the sensitive and caring person you are. You have overcome adversity with courage and grace. Your ever present smile and sweet spirit continues to brighten our lives.

As you stand on the threshold of your life, we wish you love, health, good friends, and true joy. Though we may not be ready to let you go, we know that you are ready. Believe in yourself, continue to do your best, and always remember you have a family who supports you and loves you with a pure and unconditional love. Congratulations on all you have achieved. We are so proud to say you are our daughter!

We love you....Mom and Dad

Matthew Quinn

The day you were born was one of the happiest days of our life. You proved dreams do come true. You have made us proud from the moment you drew your first breath. We find it hard to believe that you are graduating high school, it seems like only yesterday you were playing with Ninja Turtles and learning to skate. You take everything life has to give you and give it all you have. There is no doubt in our minds that you will do the same in your journey through life.



Be happy, stay safe and please keep your dorm room clean!! Remember we are always just a phone call away.
All our love forever, Mom and Dad

It just seems like yesterday that you were about to go off to kindergarten and we thought please just let us have one more year before she leaves, and now its about to happen all over again, only this time you're graduating and about to go off on your own. I guess its all about being a parent and just wanting one more year with your child. We will always cherish the wonderful memories we have of you growing up. Next year will be a whole new beginning for you, new challenges, new friends, a whole new lifestyle. Everything will be just fine. You are such a beautiful, caring, sweet, sensitive and intelligent young woman, with a unique personality! Your kindness and consideration to others is why so many people love you. We love you and will cherish you always and forever. Congratulations and Good Luck! We wish you the best.

The 2003 Yearbook Staff

We never would have believed how much work was necessary to produce a yearbook had we not witnessed the process ourselves. We hope you enjoy it and always hold on to it as proof that you were once part of something great...the Class of 2003.

As a yearbook staff, our team was made up of thirteen seniors and advisor Miss Murphy who met every Tuesday night starting in September for a minimum of three hours per night. The entire yearbook was designed on the computer using PageMaker and more than half of the pictures were digital photographs. We have learned a lot of skills and lessons during these meetings and there are many who deserve to be thanked. I would like to start b thanking Rich, part of the MHS janitorial staff for taking care of us with suc simple things as opening doors and emptying the never-ending trash can filled wit deli food and and water bottles. Thanks to everyone who submitted pictures c artwork to the book as you made it that much easier for us in attempting to mak this book well rounded. Come Tuesday night, candid pictures, were comparabl to liquid gold! Believe it or not, this book's price tag was over $20,000 and w are indebted to the generous contributions to local businesses and parents. Busi ness Editors Jillian Jewett and Kim Kelly challenged their people skills by raisin the necessary funds and designing many of the business and parent ads seen throug out the book. Their dedication was greatly appreciated and without their har work, our only other option was to raise the price of the yearbook for all students
Every page in this book was designed and hand crafted by our Layout Editor
Andrew Colleran and Francis Mclaughlin, with a little help from Gallery Builde
This may not seem like a big deal, but it is a huge job and I can't imagine possess ing half the amount of patience as these boys do, especially working with a limite amount of computers. Student Life Editors Carolyn Egan and Dave Felton, wh were spotted with cameras during spirit week and other school sponsored events spent many meetings brainstorming and coming up with ways to include every body in the yearbook. Their hard work paid off for sure. Senior Editors Lindsa Wallace, Caitlin Jackson and Lindsay McLacklan worked incredibly hard dis secting senior memories, pictures and of course the ever so scandalous superla tives. They even took the extra time to take an individual picture of almost ever senior so they could have just one more picture in the yearbook. This was a tremendous effort and I would like to take the time to thank them...it looked a lot easier at conference! The sports pages were portrayed through the eyes of tri-captain and Sports Editor Bill Antonucci. Bill spent an immeasurable amount of time on his own section and assisting others during our Tuesday night meetings as well as first semester as Miss Murphy's TA. Jill Contsantino and Melissa O'Brien came to every meeting even though they didn't hold an editor position in the beginning like the rest of us. Due to their commitment, they were appointed People Editors as they spent countless hours going through the nitty gritty process of reading senior memories, organizing faculty and underclassman photos and writing the majority of those dreaded captions.

This yearbook was a team effort, and just like a sports team we have a coach or in this case an "advisor". Miss Murphy was amazing! I can't even describe in words to you her unbelievable knowledge of yearbook and experience in producing them. She put more man hours into this book then all of us combined, and that shows not only job dedication but pure love of the game. Thanks Murph for always being there for us! Your guidance has taught us to always be prepared with not only a plan A, but also a plan B, to be on time, and most of all to let the good times roll! I have always wanted to partake in this sort of thing...silly me to think my love for pictures would lead me to be the Editor-in-Chief of my yearbook. Again, many thanks to everyone!

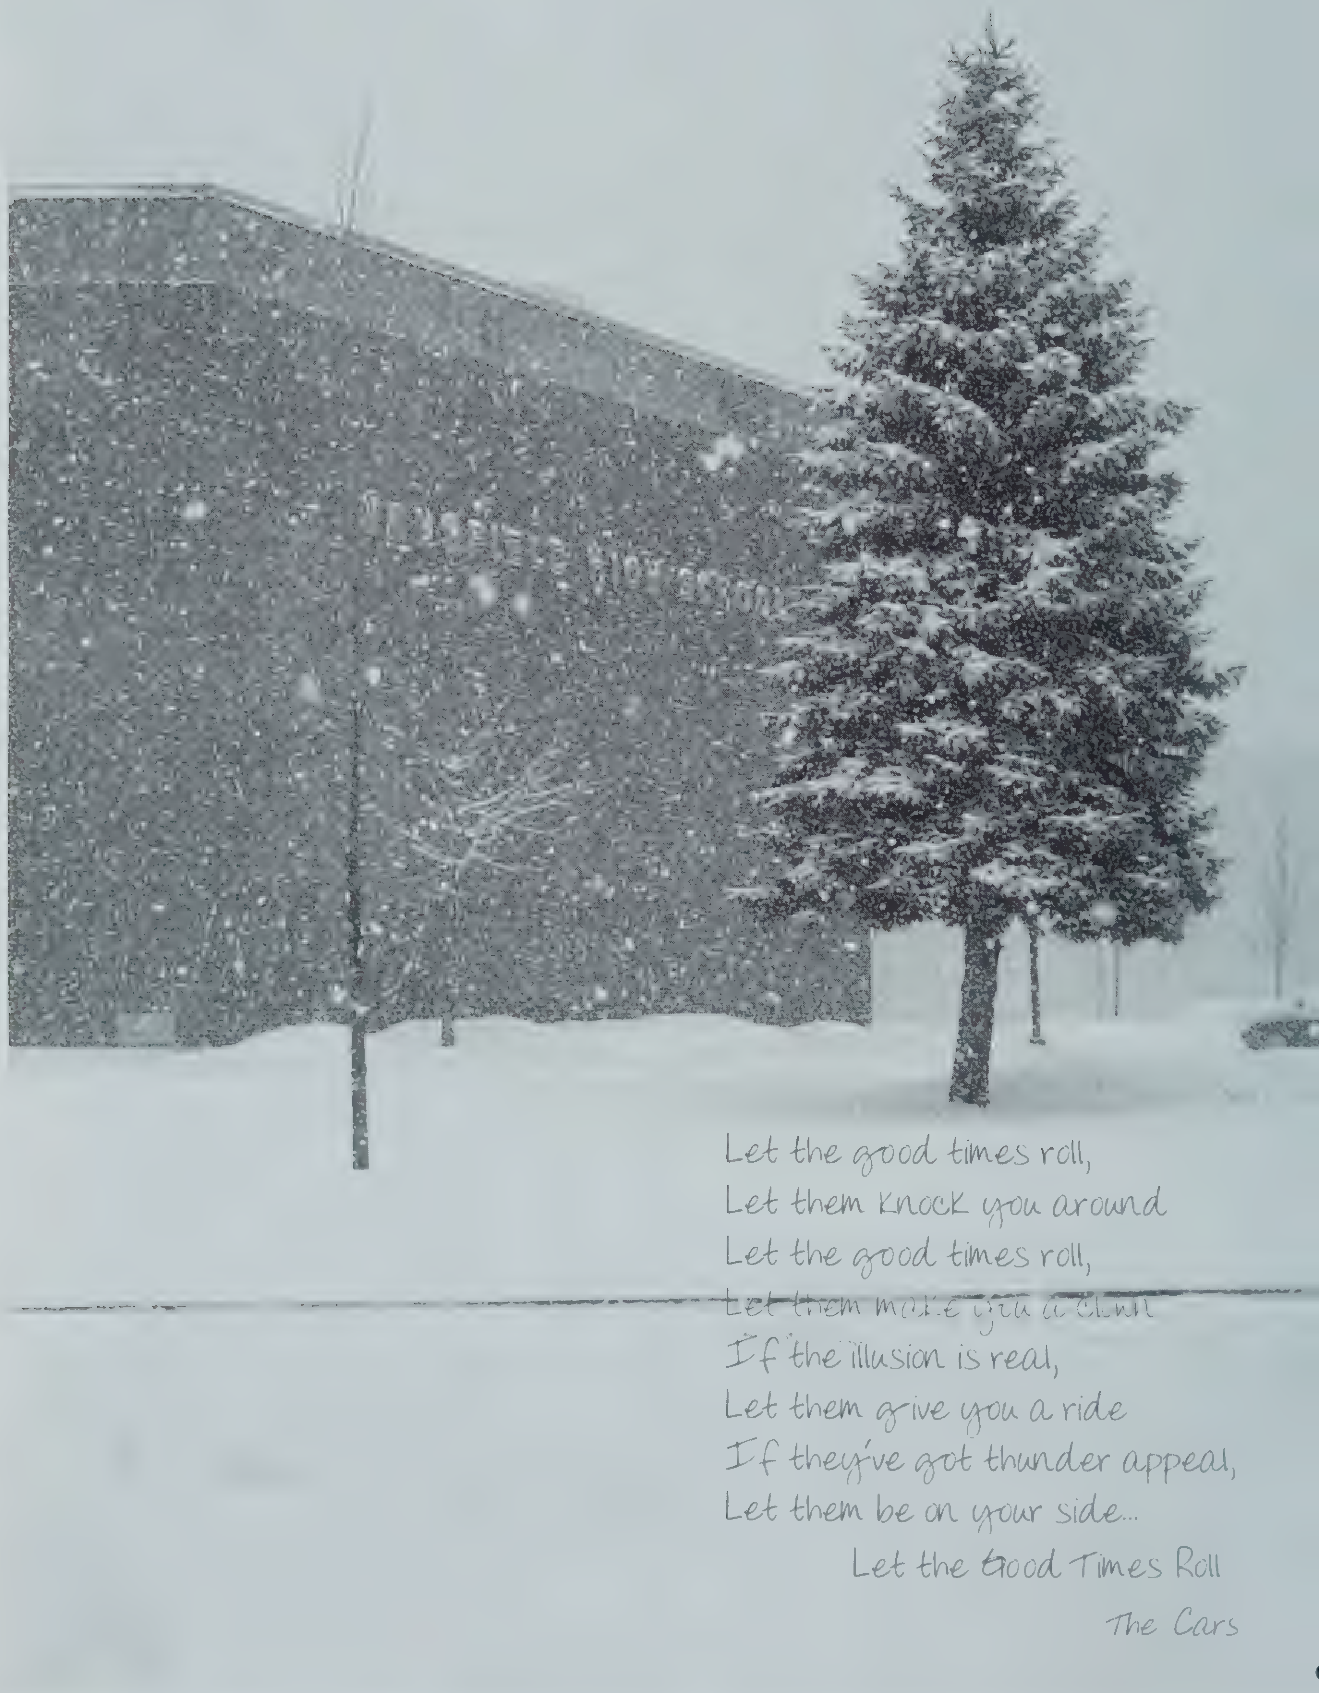
When taking the last 13 years of schooling under consideration it's often difficult to recall the events which at the time you thought were beyond normal importance. Yet, with every year there comes a story just waiting to be unfolded. The last four years have made up four unforgettable chapters in the book of life and for that we can never be truly gracious. Regardless of your feelings of Mansfield High School, it would be difficult to note the lessons lost rather then gained within these brick walls, as well as those dwelling outside the school setting. We are the class of 2003, the only one that Mansfield High will ever have and to this we should be honored.

The next four years open four more chapters in the book titled "Your Life". These years may be different or perhaps more trying than in the past but embrace them. Use the skills you have obtained from this once small town and apply them to wherever you end up. Take the gift of community to the working world by trying to teach the everyday taxpayer the necessity of human interaction and charity in times of need. While at your college or university of choice, don't sit back and enjoy the ride; but rather interact with your professors and peers and become the person you want to be. By partaking in this you will be forming your character, consequently enabling your destiny. Teach those around you your knowledge as they will do the same for you. Carry with you your love of music and the arts, or the sportsmanship you may have come across at that playoff game. Take pride in your town and what it has given to you piece by piece for the last thirteen years because we are what we make of ourselves in this world and I personally look forward to seeing what this class can do with the blank slated future set in front of us. I would like to commend each and everyone of you on your tremendous achievments! Thank you for contributing yourself to the puzzle because without you this class would never be the same. I wish you all undivided luck in wherever chapter the book of life takes you and regardless of the location, never forget to let the good times roll!



Let the good times roll,
Let them knock you around
Let the good times roll,
Let them make you a clown
If the illusion is real,
Let them give you a ride
If they've got thunder appeal,
Let them be on your side...
Let the Good Times Roll
The Cars
